Some love it, others loathe it, but we can't avoid it – it's everywhere!

A laugh-out-loud look at our undying obsession with football, celebrating everything from weird match-day rituals to ridiculous armchair punditry. The Beautiful Game explores the highs and lows of football fandom – it may even attempt to explain the offside rule.

Four women deliver a knockout performance in this ballsy, high-energy show which is brimming with nostalgia and set to a backdrop of chant-along hits and a buzzing soundtrack.

Even if football isn't your thing, this electric, feel-good show will persuade you of its charms.

Following a run at the 2019 Edinburgh Fringe and a Live and Local tour, Next Door Dance's The Beautiful Game is back on the road in spring 2022, with fixtures all around the UK.

Kathakali, the classical dance drama of Kerala south India, will perform a story that highlights the dignity, strength and compassion of women.

International artists from Kerala, south India, bring emotion, colour and incredible characters onto the stage. Allow your imagination to enter the enchanting world of Kathakali and find a place where stories come alive.

The story: Nala Chiritham second day.

The story, performed by three actors, is a section of a powerful play featuring Damayanthi deserted in the forest by her husband, Nalan. Thinking he is playing a joke she calls his name until she realises that she is alone. Attacked by a snake she needs help. Katalan, a forest dweller, asleep on the forest floor hears her cries, reluctantly goes into the forest, kills the snake then starts to pester her. Damayanthi rejects him but Katalan continues to make advances towards her. Eventually she prays to Lord Krishna for help. Katalan is eventually burned to ashes. This story illustrates that women and girls should be safe and respected.
