1. Policy Statement

Prevent is part of a Government initiative to develop a robust counter terrorism programme – CONTEST.

Prevent helps vulnerable people at risk of being recruited by terrorist or extremist groups, whether in this country or abroad. Prevent is one of the four elements of the Government's Counter-Terrorism Strategy, Contest. There are 4 elements of this strategy: Prepare, Protect, Pursue and Prevent.

The UK faces a range of terrorist threats. All the terrorist groups who pose a threat to us seek to radicalise and recruit people to their cause.

A system of threat level has been created which represents the likelihood of an attack in the near future. The five levels are:

- Critical- an attack is expected imminently
- Severe – an attack is highly likely
- Substantial – an attack is a strong possibility
- Moderate – an attack is possible but not likely
- Low – an attack is unlikely

The current threat level from international terrorism in the UK is 'substantial' which means that a terrorist attack is a strong possibility.

Further Education colleges are major education and training providers for the 16 – 25 year age group, particularly young people from ethnically diverse, and socially and economically disadvantaged areas. The age and profile of our students and service users make it crucial to be involved in the Prevent Policy. Colleges have a part to play in fostering shared values and promoting cohesion. Colleges should focus on the risks of violent extremism, which represents the greatest threat at national level, while recognising that other forms of violence and extremism can and do manifest themselves within colleges and other training settings.

Revised Ofsted guidance (September 2019) states:

- 'Inspectors should ensure there is a clear approach to implementing the Prevent duty and keeping children and learners safe from the dangers of radicalisation and extremism'.
- 'Inspectors will consider the extent to which leaders, managers and those responsible for governance ensure that arrangements to protect children and learners meet statutory requirements, follow the applicable guidance, and promote their welfare – including the prevention of radicalisation and extremism'.
- 'the college has due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism in accordance with the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015'.

For the purposes of this Policy, violent extremism in the name of ideology or belief is defined as violence, incitement to violence, terrorism, incitement to terrorism, or other activities that may result in violent behaviour or terrorist activity in the name of an ideology or a set of beliefs.

As a general principle, the College has a statutory responsibility to:

- i. At all times, and by all means, seek to create a safe environment for the entire College community.
- ii. Operate the policy to specifically encompass children, young people, vulnerable adults and adults who may be temporarily vulnerable.

- iii. Acknowledge that abuse may take many forms; physical, sexual, financial and material, emotional, neglect, FGM, forced marriage, HBV, hate crime, radicalisation and risk to self and/or others.
- iv. Work with external agencies, in particular, Dorset Safer Schools and Community Team, The Dorset Police Prevention Team and the Pan Dorset Safeguarding Partnership and the Local Authority Designated Officer, whilst always placing the welfare of the individual at the centre of any action taken.

2. Policy Objectives

This Policy has five key objectives:

1. To promote and reinforce shared values; to create space for free and open debate; and to listen and support the student voice.

Appendix 2 Glossary

There are many terms and expressions used in discussion and debate about Prevent. This glossary sets out what we mean when we use a particular word or phrase. These definitions relate to Prevent and are not always authoritative in any wider context. Some of the more contentious, or most heavily-used, terms are listed below. We draw particular attention to the way in which this document uses the terms extremism, radicalisation and terrorism.

Counter-radicalisation	Usually refers to activity aimed at a group of people intended to dissuade them from engaging in terrorism-related activity.
De-radicalisation	Usually refers to activity aimed at a person who supports terrorism and in some cases has engaged in terrorist related activity, which is intended to effect cognitive and/or behavioural change leading to a new outlook on terrorism and/or disengagement from it.
Disengagement	In the context of this document is the process whereby an individual ceases to be involved terrorism.
Extremism	Is vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.
Ideology	Is a set of beliefs.
Ideologue	Is a proponent as well as an adherent of an ideology.
Insurgent	Is an individual who fights against a government or an occupying force with the aim of overthrowing it.
Interventions	Are projects intended to divert people who are being drawn into terrorist activity. Interventions can include mentoring, counselling, theological support, encouraging civic engagement, developing support networks (family and peer structures) or providing mainstream services (education, employment, health, finance or housing).
Islamism	Is a philosophy which, in the broadest sense, promotes the application of Islamic values to modern government. There are no commonly agreed definitions of 'Islamism' and 'Islamist', and groups or individuals described as Islamist often have very different aims and views about how those aims might be realised. Some militant Islamists would endorse violence or terrorism to achieve their aims. Many Islamists do not.
Prevention	In the context of this document means reducing or eliminating the risk of individuals becoming involved in terrorism. Prevent involves the identification and referral of those susceptible to violent extremism into appropriate interventions. These interventions aim to divert the susceptible from embarking down the path to radicalisation.

Radicalisation	Refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism. A radicaliser is an individual who encourages others to develop or adopt beliefs and views supportive of terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism.
Radicalising locations	Are venues, often unsupervised, where the process of radicalisation takes place. Locations include public spaces, for example university campuses and mosques, as well as private/more concealed locations such as homes, cafes, and bookstores.
Radicalising materials	Include literature or videos that are used by radicalisers to encourage or reinforce individuals to adopt a violent ideology. Some of this material may explicitly encourage violence. Other materials may take no avowed position on violence but make claims to which violence is subsequently presented as the only solution.
Resilience	In the context of this document means the capability of people, groups and communities to rebut and reject proponents of terrorism and the ideology they promote.
Safeguarding	Is the process of protecting vulnerable people, whether from crime, other forms of abuse or (in the context of this document) from being drawn into terrorism-related.
Single narrative	Is sometimes used to refer to the particular interpretation of religion, history and politics that is associated with Al Qa'ida, IS and like minded groups. The narrative connects 'grievances' at a local and/or global level, reinforces the portrayal of Muslims as victims of Western injustice and thereby purports to legitimise terrorism. It combines fact, fiction, emotion and religion and manipulates discontent about local and international issues. The single narrative is also sometimes known as the Al Qa'ida Narrative, the Grand Narrative or the Global Extremist Narrative. The current UK definition of terrorism is given in the Terrorism Act 2000 (TACT 2000). In summary this defines terrorism as an action that endangers or causes serious violence to a person/people; causes serious damage to property; or seriously interferes or disrupts an electronic system. The use or threat must be designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public and is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause.
Vulnerability	Describes the condition of being capable of being injured; difficult to defend; open to moral or ideological attack. Within Prevent , the word describes factors and characteristics associated with being susceptible to radicalisation.
